THINGS TO DO...

Virtual Graduate Writers' Room

Mar 7 | 10 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Writers' Rooms are dedicated times for graduate writers to work on their academic writing projects (e.g., scholarly articles, dissertations, etc.). Writers should plan to spend most of the two-hour block in independent writing; however, Writing Lab tutors will be available for very brief, limited consultations if concerns arise during the writing time. Check our online scheduler for more times and programs.

Workshop: Citing and Documenting Sources

Mar 30 | 11 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Style guides and citations can be tricky to navigate. At this workshop, you will learn how to properly cite and document sources in your writing. Check our online scheduler for times and other programs.

Writing Consultations

Monday-Friday until May 6 | 9 a.m. - 9 p.m.

Our consultants are standing by for face-to-face and remote, virtual consultations. You can choose an online (live chat), tutoring (asynchronous email), or a face-to-face appointment. There are a limited number of appointments available after 6 pm. Check our online scheduler for more information. More information on our consultation options...

English Conversation Groups

Monday-Friday

If you are a Purdue University student or scholar whose first language is not English, the Writing Lab's conversation groups are a terrific way to improve your fluency and expand your vocabulary. More info on English Conversation Groups...

SPOTLIGHT ON...

Introduction to Graduate Writing

Here we present four vidcasts that offer a broad introductory overview of graduate writing. In this context, it is helpful to think about writing as a conversation, a process, a social endeavor, and a disciplinary undertaking. Stay tuned as we continue to publish these vidcasts!
